

In honor of International Microorganism Day celebrated on September 17, 2023, the Department of Microbiology has come up with an initiative to disseminate information and create awareness about prevalent diseases during this season through "Microbe Minutiae" a fortnightly bulletin that will be prominently displayed in all the blocks on a regular basis.

