UTSAV 2017

The month of August received a splash of colours at St Aloysius College (Autonomous) with UTSAV 2017 held on 09, 10, 16 and 17 August 2017. This was a platform for students to showcase their abundant talents and battle it out for the best team in each faculty. This was a unique event organized completely by the college staff, for its students, to enable them to appreciate each other's capabilities, work as a team and develop strong bonds between their fellow mates.

This year, BVoc faculty was involved as the sixth faculty along with BA, BBA/BBM, BCA, BCom & BSc. Twenty four events were organized, including Mad Ad, Bharathanatyam & Variety Entertainment. Good Response was there for all the events, especially for Bharathanatyam & Mad Ad from few faculties.

thanatyam & Mad Ad from few faculties.

Cash Prizes and Certificates were awarded to the First, Second and Third prize winners in each event. On an average, 55 - 60 students from each class / team took part and contributed their might in making UTSAV 2017 a grand success.

This year in BVoc - 5 teams, BA & BCA - 6 teams, BBA/BBM - 12 teams, BSc - 13 teams (one additional team for first years were given due to increase in strength) and in BCom - 18 teams participated. Total student participation was approximately equal to 4800 students.

UTSAV 2017 was completely in-house programme with staff members putting up the entire show in various capacities as Judges, Event Heads and members of the organizing committee.

The following were the Faculty in charge:

Ms Maria Shaila (BA), Mr Sonal S Lobo (BBA/BBM), Ms Premalatha Shetty (BCA), Mr Shakinraj (BCom), Ms Rachel N Mary (Physical Science) & Mr Hariprasad Shetty (Biological Science) for BSc.

Mr Naveen P Mascarenhas & Mr Anup D Veigas were incharge for Logistics & Sound Systems & Mr Dheeraj Sequeira & Mr Harshith were incharge for Main Auditorium.

Workshop on Maintenance of Analytical Instruments

The Workshop on Maintenance of Analytical Instruments was held on August 29, 2017 at Fr Robert Sequeira hall. The key impetus of this programme was to understand more about operating instruments in the laboratory and provide students the knowledge in handling the instrument they use.

The functionaries for inaugural function Mr Mustafa

Badshah the chief guest, Dr Suresh M Tuwar the guest of honour and Rev Dr Praveen Martis SJ the Principal presided over the function. The formal function began with the prayer service invoking the presence of the almighty. This was followed by the formal welcome delivered by Dr Richard Gonsalves, Vice Principal of LCRI block who officially welcomed the dignitaries on and off the dais as well as the participants.

In his inaugural address, Mr Mustafa Badshah stated that the industries and academics have to walk hand in hand for development of the country. Turning back the pages of history he quoted World War 2 where due to the poor policies of the German government which led to a once prosperous country domineering the field of science resulted in brain drain. The scientific minds moved to USA and other countries making them super powers overnight. Observing the Nobel laureates Mr Mustafa quoting the CEO of equiptronics stated that most of them were of German origin thereby concluding that the quality of the professionals depends on the teaching ability to groom them, therefore there is a need for the academicians to indulge the students in project and research institutes. He stated that ISRO, DRDO, DFRL and CFTRI have many bright research fellows contributed by St Aloysius institutions. CV Raman was a student of St Aloysius institution Vishakapattanam and was expecting the moulding of another Nobel laureate by the institution.

After the awe inspiring address the Guest of Honour Dr Suresh M Tuwar Associate Professor of Chemistry, Karnataka Science College, Dharwad, compared the generation gap of technology between then and now. During the previous generation, the instruments were unable to reproduce the data, furthermore each instrument was larger in size and they were of only single purpose unlike the miniature and multipurpose instruments of today. Additionally the instruments have evolved towards the ease of usage and were cost effective. Earlier the German companies dominated the field of science however nowadays due to the revolution in technology, many countries have begun to dabble in technology and come up with better cost effective and high performance equipment. The future is to make sustainable instruments. The instruments have become the heart and blood of the science field, however one must not lose logic along the way. Along with basic sciences where logic is cultivated there is a need to go hand in hand with the instruments. It is imperative to nurture the need to analyse. Relying on the report given by instrument blindly is just as good as being a technician, as teachers possessing master and graduate degrees the need to understand the analysis of the report as well as the working of the instrument is crucial for further development of India.

Rev Dr Praveen Martis S J in his presidential address expressed his joy at being a part of the workshop. Rather than discussing the right method of governing the country or the path, the field of science must take, one must first be equipped with themselves. One must have persisting inquisitiveness and the need to make the difference as individuals, rather than be spectators to development. He also thanked the equiptronics for taking the initiative to create awareness.

The vote of thanks was delivered by Dr Joythi Rao the organizing secretary, department of postgraduate studies and research in chemistry.

The programme was organised under the leadership of Head of the department of Post graduate studies and Research in Chemistry Dr Ronald Nazareth.

After the inaugural the first session was taken up by Mr Mustafa on the topic working principles of instruments and good laboratory practices. The second session was by Dr Suresh M Tuwar on Fine features of electronics equipments and calibrations. In the afternoon the hands on training programme was taken up by Mr Yusuf Saifee the service engineer of Equiptronics on servicing and maintenance of analytical equipments.

145 Staff and students from 23 colleges participated in the workshop.

Malaria Awareness Programme

Centre for Social concern has organised a programme on 31-8-17 at Mulky community. Duration of the programme was between 1 and 5pm. It was an awareness programme on Malaria for the general public. Officials from MCC (Mangalore City Corporation) including health inspectors, junior health inspectors and MPWs (Multipurpose workers) had supervised this programme. 60 UG students of different streams from St Aloysius College has volunteered in this programme along with five Mentors and coordinators of Centre for Social Concern. Students visited houses in the community and created awareness among the families. A very important fact in Malaria control is, to destroy the habitat of Mosquitos were they breed. Mosquito breeding mainly occurs in stagnant water resources like abandoned tyres, vessels and coconut shells etc...

From June onwards, CSC has been conducting the same programme in different areas of Mangalore. This community is mainly accommodated by labourers who migrated from Utter Kannada Districts like Bagalkot, Bijapur and Raichur. Students visited homes and spoke with the people on matters related to Malaria. People were taught about the precautions to avoid Malaria like pouring out the stagnant water, keeping premises clean and to reduce the possibilities of getting mosquito bites. Students, people of the community and MPW's together destroyed the breeding places and larva. Staff from the community radio of St Aloysius College, ‘Radio Sarang 107.8’ participated in the programme and recorded the feedback of public about the programme which would be broadcasted. Student from the PG Dept. of Journalism has captured pictures of the programme which would be published as a report in the College newsletter.

Faculty Development Programme

The Department of MBA organized its 9th Faculty Development Programme at the AIMIT Campus of St. Aloysius College with the theme “Enhancing Research Acumen.” The week programme from 7th -13th of August, 2017. Research is the bedrock of knowledge in general and higher education in particular. The institutions of higher education in India are facing crucial challenge in creating, nurturing and maintaining the level of quality research. It is essential to develop a sound methodological base of research among the researchers to cope up with challenges in the field of research. A good grounding in research methodology is a key to sound research output. To operationalize this vision, there is need to train, reorient and reactivate the research scholars on research methodology. The current FDP is part of an ongoing effort by the Department of MBA to enrich the Research scholars in practical and applied research methodology. The FDP aims at enabling the participant researchers to develop the most appropriate methodology for their Research Studies.

The FDP will also impart research skills to the beginners and help improve the quality of research by the existing researchers. ## Alumni Gurukulam

The all new Alumni Gurukulam series commenced with much aplomb and grandeur on August 19, 2017. The occasion was graced by Mr. Saifuddin who was the former Management Club Secretary at the Department of MBA in the 2012-14 batch. He joined the Department of MBA as an engineering graduate with more than a couple of years' industry experience. Presently, he is the Project Manager at a reputed Oil and Natural Gas Company in the Middle East. He spoke of his experiences as a management student and how they helped him in his career. Systems' thinking was one clear skill that he claimed had mastered and applied in his work life.

Systems thinking, is a management discipline that concerns an understanding of a system by examining the linkages and interactions between the components that comprise the entirety of that defined system. He maintained that the basic principles of systems thinking can and must be applied to management and leadership. Mr.

Saifuddin added that the whole system is a systems thinking view of the complete organization in relation to its environment. It provides a means of understanding, analyzing and talking about the design and construction of the organization as an integrated, complex composition of many interconnected systems (human and non-human) that need to work together for the whole to function successfully.

Understanding and anticipating how the whole system is intended to work, actually works, and how it may buckle under pressure, can practically elude and defeat most executives, he added. The speaker cautioned that to avoid censure for this tough challenge, managers sometimes seek recourse to the often hollow mantra "lessons will be/have been learned". They also try to divert attention and reassure investors by referring to a single bad apple (e.g. a 'rogue trader'), behind which usually lurks a systemic failure. He cautioned the students against this trap. The students found the talk both relevant and practical.

Management Lab Inauguration -2017

Integrated Management Labs introduces in Semester 3 by the Department of MBA recreates practical learning in a Lab like environment, with a multidisciplinary group of students providing management solutions to real time problems. The M lab for Semester 3 commenced on August 23, 2017.

This semester long experiential learning course blends traditional classroom learning with real-world problem solving, teamwork, and sponsor service. Working closely with a faculty advisor, teams of 4-6 students spend time adopting a multidisciplinary approach to solving business problems under faculty supervision. M-Lab projects are carefully selected on the basis of being rigorous, multi-disciplinary efforts which require teams to tackle issues of corporate strategy, marketing, finance, M&A, customer service, organizational design and/or operations.

Panel discussion on 'A step closer towards the nation'

Panel discussion on 'A step closer towards the nation' By the Alchemy Association, Post Graduate Department of Studies and Research in Chemistry.

On August 16, the Alchemy Association organised first panel discussion. Mr Karthik Hegde the student organizer of this innovative activity and Dr Vinola Rodrigues the association Co-ordinator were the key collaborators who were responsible for paving this new path into the annals of the alchemy history.

The master of ceremonies Mr Karthik Hegde invited the respective panellist onto the dais. After a brief introduction the 1st panellist speaker Mr Rohan Ammannna of 2nd M.Sc Chemistry addressed the panel as well as the audience on how science and technology could help make India take a step closer towards the nation. Immediately after the address the panel was open for discussion. In a similar manner the second panellist Mr Neil Coelho of 2nd M.Sc Chemistry spoke on entrepreneurship, subsequently Ms Gopee of 2nd M.Sc Chemistry who spoke on education and broadmindedness followed by Ms Smitha Kamath of 1nd M.Sc Chemistry elaborating on the need of the reservation system in India. After that Ms Zoharabi Amreena of 1nd M.Sc Chemistry conveyed her thoughts on the mass mentality.

Once the student panellist had presented their views the teacher faculty subsequently presented their view points. Dr Lyned Lasrado from the PG Dept. of Biochemistry spoke on citizen for nation building stressing that we the citizens play a major role in building our nation rather than the Govt. and we as responsible citizens should not merely exercise our fundamental rights but also our fundamental duties. Only then can we prosper as a nation. Dr Denis Fernandes the IQAC Co-ordinator of St Aloysius college spoke on the 'concept of development in modern India' wherein he expressed, we as citizens must not blindly follow the western civilization on urbanisation and must understand what developments means for our nation- where everyone is clothed, sheltered, self-sufficient and healthy.

The panel concluded with a vote of thanks by Ms Delna and Dr Ronald Nazereth presented a memento to the staff panellist while Dr Vinola Rodrigues presented the mementos to the student panellist.

The program was a success. Hopefully there would be more upcoming panel discussions by alchemy with further scope of improvement.

PG Staff Council Meeting

The PG Staff Council Meeting was held on 01-08-2017. Principal welcomed the members and gave an Introductory Note for the meeting.

Agenda 1: Principal briefed about the P G Admissions during this academic year 2017-18. He said in comparison to UG admissions it was not to that level, however for some departments the admissions have been fairly good.

Agenda 2: Deemed University status of our College was the next agenda discussed by Fr Principal. He mentioned about the approval given by the General of Jesuit Congregation. The next step is to work for approval from the UGC /MHRD. For this purpose two committees Internal Core Committee and Advisory Committee have been working. Internal Core Committee looks into the proposal, how to send it, 90% work has been done and it has to be sent by end of August. Advisory Committee will give timely expertise whenever required. Dr Narahari informed the members that a draft proposal copy will be sent to each dept. and requested to give their suggestions. He asked to refer 2016 Proposal which is a good one to refer. He also stated that Advisory committee will also give their expert advise.

Agenda 3: The next focus of discussion was on Research. It was stressed that we need to work on conducting more research at P G Level .The research coordinator and Assistant coordinator are working seriously on Research policies which after approval from the management will have to be adhered by every staff.

Members were informed the good news that Mangalore University has given approval for Department of English and Chemistry as Research Centres (with a oral communication received now). Principal asked other departments to work on making their departments as research centres too. There was suggestion to keep pending that submission of proposal as we are on the verge of being a University. Fr Leo said departments that are doing good must apply instead of waiting as we are not sure of when we will attain that status. Fr Leo also pointed out that Humanities departments must also enrol as Research Centres. Dr Norbert lobo pointed out that some departments have less full time staff and they find it difficult to focus on research.

Agenda 4 : Fr Principal told the members that St Aloysius is planning for collaborations with other universities in Europe. MOU's with at least 20 foreign universities will be done in September to November, 2017. College is also trying to have MOU's with about 20 Industries for which our alumnus , an entrepreneur, Mr Walter D'souza will help us in this regard. Thus we shall have Collaborations with Universities abroad, and Indian Universities and Industries. We will also have exchange of Teachers and students to and fro to these universities which helps in cross cultural learning and sharing. MOU's with Mangalore University Departments can be also be worked on. There will a Office of the Dean, of International Studies in the main campus and Mr Vincent will be the Officer operating the office.

Agenda 5 : Next discussion was on Library. Principal said that the proposal for the new building is postponed for some time. He pointed out that more usage of Library should take place in P G Studies. Some members suggested creating more reading space in the library to accommodate students. Librarian mentioned that students do come refer in the P G library and the number has increased from last year.

Agenda 6: Principal mentioned that two new programmes to be started next academic year proposal will be placed before academic council. The Registrar informed that the academic council meeting will be held in September/October; 2017. We can have another one only if there are any important proposals to be passed. Regarding Examinations he said anymore there will be no marks but grades displayed in the certificates which is also followed by Mangalore University. Regarding Open Electives, Common day classes, common examination day and timings will be held. Paper Valuation will have a definite time frame and all have follow it (about 10 days).

Agenda 7 : Website is being upgraded reported Dr Denis and by now they have completed UG departments. Currently they are working on PG Departments. That department staff who have not sent staff profile details were asked to do so immediately.

Video Conferencing facility has been made available in the college and HOD's were asked to make use of this facility and its a paid website so it should not get wasted. You can invite Academician or Practitioner from the field for discussion in a video conference from abroad or within India.

Agenda 8: The Placement officer then briefed the members that UG Placements were good but PG placements were comparatively lower and companies too prefer undergraduates. Principal mentioned that one staff from each department should coordinate with the placement officer. He also said that if any staff has contacts with any Industry, to kindly also share with placement officer.

Agenda 9 : The last agenda was on PG staff work schedule. Principal told the members that in PG programmes there should be different work culture of spending more time reading, doing research and discussion and guiding students. Every staff must publish at least one paper in a reputed, Peer reviewed Journal in a year. Also encourage students to stay back and do reference work ,study and other academic activity.

Lastly Principal mentioned about one rupee revolution in which all of us should be self motivated and encourage everyone to contribute. The concept is that help should go from college to Village and Village to College. The programme will be formally inaugurated on 08, August ,2017. Members were then thanked by Principal and meeting concluded at 5.40pm.

IQAC Meeting

The first IQAC Meeting for the academic year 2017-18 was held on August 28, 2017 at 3.30 pm in the Conference Room. The meeting began with the prayer. The IQAC Coordinator Dr Denis Fernandes introduced the newly appointed Principal of the college Rev. Dr Praveen Martis SJ to the external experts of IQAC team and also introduced six external members to the Principal. The Principal welcomed the gathering and initiated the meeting as per the agenda.

The IQAC Coordinator read the minutes of the meeting held on February 23, 2017. It was approved by the members. The Principal also briefed the members on the follow-up done by the College after February meeting. The members appreciated the follow up work.

The Principal informed the members that the College is planning to be upgraded from Autonomous level to the status of Deemed to be University. Already the Management has received permission to initiate process from the Superiors of Jesuit Order. A Core Committee to draft the proposal has been formed which has already submitted the first draft to the Advisory Committee which consist of external experts. The management has decided to submit the proposal to UGC by the end of September. The members suggested that the drafting should be done carefully including all the aspects which are required by the authorities. If the proposal is incomplete then it takes longer time to get the things done from the UGC.

Mr Gerard Colaco congratulated the Principal for taking up IQAC meeting suggestions very seriously by the College. He suggested that there is a huge demand for GST practitioners. Those students who are in the final year could be trained in dealing with GST issues. Therefore a certificate course with practical knowledge on GST could be introduced in the College. Old boys of the College who are practicing Chartered Accountants could be invited to help out. He also suggested that the College should initiate an Entrepreneur Cell. The Principal informed that the College has an incubation centre at AIMIT Campus and the College is writing a new proposal to Niti Ayog under Atal Incubation Centres (AICs).

Dr K.V. Rao suggested that there is liberal funding for environmental programmes. Therefore the College has to prepare some concrete proposals and send it to these offices.

Prof Abdul Rahiman pointed out that the College has to be registered under National Academy of Depository. He also pointed out that NAAC has brought out new revised proforma for SSR. Therefore the College must arrange some lectures for the staff in this direction.

Mr Joselyn Lobo suggested to include more and more add on courses for the existing degree programmes.

Dr Gerald Santhosh D'Souza expressed his concern over the decline in sports activities in Degree Colleges. He pointed out that it is not going along with other activities in the College. Sports is best advertisement for a College not only to attract sportsmen but also to get recognition at National and International level. Therefore infrastructure for sports to be developed in the College. Sports quota to be kept in the College and incentives to be given to sports person, Sports Department to be strengthened by hiring coaches for specific sports and games. Sports Science to be encouraged for which a separate sports policy to be developed. He also suggested to create Health and Wellness Department in the College.

Dr A.M. Narahari proposed vote of thanks and meeting was concluded.

Visit to D.C.'s Office

The Department of Political Science in consultation with the Deputy Commissioner's (DC) office had engaged in an interactive session. The aim of the visit was to have a practical understanding on how the district administration works for the students of B.A Political Science and BA Mentees of the SAHAAYA Program. On August 19, 2017, accompanied by the Political Science faculty, the students visited the Election, Food & Civil Supplies, and the Revenue sections.

The Tahsildar of the Election section explained the work done at the DC level during elections to the Lok Sabha, Vidhana Sabha, and the local bodies within the district. He also gave insights on how to enrol, how to update and when the final voter lists are put up. The Manager of the Food & Civil Supplies explained the implementation of the Public Distribution System of essential food items like rice/wheat, oil, tur dal or moon dal through the Ration Card. In terms of its reach to the people of Dakshina Kannada, she explained as to how the food grains are procured from the Food Corporation of India and distributed to the Fair Shops. Also she pointed that how the public's grievances are addressed and how the allotment takes place through telephonic messages.

The Revenue section handles several areas. The Superintendent addressed the students along with two other members of the section. They outlined the hierarchical order in terms of revenue administration beginning with the village accountant (VA), informed on the judicial and appellate authorities, on land settlement, on land conversion, and the how the process of land acquisition takes place. Apart from the functions, one of the officers explained the protocol functions that the DC's officials have to undertake. Most importantly they explained as to how the students of the schools and colleges are utilised to convey the social security schemes of the government to the general public. Students were able to get clarity on the problems faced by them when registering as a voter or availing ration card facilities.
