Guest Talks

To observe National Education Day, the School of Education, St Aloysius (Deemed to be University), organised a guest talk on the topic "My Perspectives on Progressive Practices among Secondary School Teachers."

The speaker, Dr. M. Padmavathi, Retired Professor and Former Dean of Education, Mangalore University, delivered an inspiring address emphasizing reading, teacher accountability, emotional well-being, and inclusive education as key elements of progressive teaching. She urged teachers to mentor students with care and instill values of gratitude and compassion. On this occasion, a book titled INSPIRATIONS authored by the speaker was released. The publication provides valuable insights on career guidance, achievement, and holistic personality development.

The School of Engineering, St Aloysius (Deemed to be University) hosted an inspiring guest talk on Wednesday, November 12, 2025, to mark National Entrepreneurship Day.

The event, held at the Robert Sequira Hall, LCRI, featured Mr. Ethan Kiran Dsouza, the Founder of Evlogia Labs Pvt. Ltd., as the keynote speaker.

The session was organized to motivate students to embrace creativity and an entrepreneurial mindset as essential tools for success. Mr. Dsouza shared his personal journey, candidly discussing his early struggles. He revealed that it took his first company two years to earn its first five-figure income in Indian rupees, emphasizing that growth in entrepreneurship is gradual but deeply rewarding. "Success depends on building systems, maintaining consistency, and choosing the right people to work with," Mr. Dsouza stated, encouraging students to stay persistent and view challenges as stepping stones. He championed a "do-it-yourself" approach, urging the audience to act rather than wait for the perfect moment. A memorable highlight was his quote, "10,000 hours creates a perfect man," reinforcing the values of relentless practice and dedication. In a significant gesture that energized the students, Mr. Dsouza offered to personally fund and support a student's idea if it showed potential to solve a real-world problem. As a direct follow-up, students were invited to submit their proposals to Dr. Ruban, Dean of the School of Engineering, within one week for review and potential backing.

from Mr. Dsouza himself. The event began with a prayer song by the college choir and the seminar was compered by Ms. Madiha Fathima. A lively Q&A session concluded the talk. Faculty coordinators Mr. Mohammed Siraj and Dr. Geetha Pinto organized the event. Mr. Thejas Jagadeesh delivered the formal vote of thanks, expressing gratitude to Mr. Dsouza and all attendees for the impactful session.

Radio Saarang

In September October and November, Radio Sarang captivated its audience with an engaging series of Yakshagana performances, featuring titles such as "Panchajanya," "Kauntheya," "Sri Krishna Sandana," "Purva Rangu Kattu Hasya," "Kolluru Kshetra," "Kadamba Kaushike," "Shambhavi Vijaya", "Vaibhava Sapta Swara," "Maharshi Valmiki," "Tuluvala Baliyendre," "Narakasura Moksha," "Kanada Katader," "Tulasi Jalandara," "Ankada Boolya," "Balidana," "Babbu Swami Mahime," and "Ambarisha Charitre." For the program Hrudaya Raga, the guests were K. Achyuth Kamath Kavoor, a bhajan composer and singer, and Pushpa Jogi, a retired teacher and writer. ## Workshops

The School of Engineering (SOE), St Aloysius (Deemed to be University), in collaboration with the Manipal College of Dental Sciences (MCODS), Mangalore, organized a one-day workshop titled

"Unboxing AI". Held at Sandhya Hall on the St Aloysius campus, the workshop was designed exclusively for the postgraduate students and faculty members of MCODS, focusing on the integration of Artificial Intelligence in dental education, research, and clinical practice. The workshop was inaugurated in the presence of esteemed dignitaries. Dr. Karthik Shetty, PG Coordinator, MCODS, highlighted the urgent need for engineering and medical institutions to break barriers and work together to offer innovative solutions to societal challenges. Dr Srikanth, Associate Dean, MCODS, stressed the importance of embracing the rapid advancements in AI, stating that adapting to these changes is essential for professionals to remain relevant.

In his presidential address, Rev. Dr Melwyn D'Cunha SJ, Pro Vice Chancellor, St Aloysius (Deemed to be University), emphasized the values of empathy, continuous learning, and adaptability while adopting transformative technologies such as AI. Dr S. Ruban, Dean, School of Engineering, welcomed the gathering, Mr Siraj, Chair of the Institution's Innovation Council (IIC), proposed the vote of thanks, and Mr Glenson Toney, Assistant Dean, SOE, compered the event. The inaugural ceremony was followed by a session by Dr S. Ruban titled "Why, How and When to Use AI: A Dental Perspective", offering valuable insights into the practical and emerging applications of AI in dental healthcare.

Hands-on training sessions were later conducted at the JW Lab, Maffei Block. Mr Glenson Toney led an engaging session on building AI chatbots and utilizing AI tools for image classification. Participants developed their own personalised chatbots during the session, with the top five models being recognized for creativity and performance. Mr Siraj then delivered a session on "AI-Driven Research: Working Smarter, Not Harder", where he introduced participants to a range of advanced AI tools for literature search, data analysis, and scientific writing, aimed at enhancing research efficiency and accuracy. The workshop was organized as part of the ongoing MoU between St Aloysius (Deemed to be University) and Manipal College of Dental Sciences (MCODS), Mangalore, reaffirming the commitment of both institutions toward interdisciplinary collaboration and fostering AI literacy in healthcare education.

A workshop on Manupatra – An Online Database for Legal Research was conducted on 14th November 2025 at the Joseph Willy Computer Lab, Maffei Block, with Mr Chandrashekhar Patil, Zonal Head – South India, Manupatra Information Solutions Pvt. Ltd., serving as the resource person. The workshop, attended by the Dean, faculty members and students of the BBA LLB and LLB programmes, aimed to equip participants with the skills required to effectively utilise Manupatra for legal research. Mr Patil demonstrated key functionalities of the platform, including effective search techniques, the use of filters and navigation of case notes and parallel citations. He also introduced advanced features such as Judge analytics, case comments, legal updates and the act navigator, highlighting their practical relevance in legal research. The workshop was began with a welcome address by Dr Udaya, the Librarian, who introduced the resource person. The workshop concluded with a vote of thanks by Fr Prashanth Sequeira, Associate Dean of the School of Law. The workshop offered valuable insights and significantly enhanced the participants' understanding of the Manupatra platform.

Visits

The School of Engineering, St Aloysius (Deemed to be University) organised a Strategic Visit of the Leadership Team from Manipal College of Dental Sciences (MCODS) on November 5, 2025, with the objective of exploring and strengthening research partnerships between MCODS and St Aloysius (Deemed to be University). A team of 18 members led by Dr Srikant N from MCODS participated in the visit. The program was presided by Rev. Dr Melwin D'Cunha, Pro-Vice Chancellor, Dr Ronald Nazareth, Registrar, Dr S. Ruban, Dean, School of Engineering, and several faculty members including Dr Chandrashekhar Shetty T, Dr. Asha Abraham, Dr Feby Lukose, Dr Lyned Lasrado, Dr. Jiji George, and Dr E Deepak. were present for The session commenced with a brief discussion led by the Pro-Vice Chancellor, followed by an address by the Registrar, and further remarks by Dr Chandrashekhar Shetty, Research Director, and Dr S. Ruban, Dean of the School of Engineering. The discussions focused on identifying interdisciplinary collaboration areas, particularly in research facilities available at St Aloysius (Deemed to be University) and possible research topics in dental sciences research. Following the discussion, the visiting team was taken on a guided tour of various research facilities and laboratories at St Aloysius (Deemed to be University). At the Advanced Instrumentation Centre, demonstrations and explanations were given by Mr Sachin. The Biochemistry Laboratory was introduced by Dr Lyned Lasrado, highlighting the ongoing biochemical research initiatives. In the Biotechnology Laboratory, Dr Jiji George showcased recent projects and capabilities. The Food Science Laboratory, presented by Dr Feby Lukose, featured innovations in food analysis and product development. The visit concluded with at Fr Leo Lab, which focuses on applied scientific research. The event served as an excellent platform to exchange ideas and explore collaborative research opportunities between MCODS and St Aloysius University. The program was coordinated by Dr Praveen P D'Souza, Assistant Professor, School of Engineering.

The M.Sc. Biochemistry students of the School of Life Sciences undertook an educational study tour from 16th to 20th November 2025, accompanied by Dr. Swarnalatha B.N, Dr. Remya Varadarajan, and Dr. Ambarish C.N as faculty coordinators. A total of 23 students and 3 faculty members participated in the tour.

The major academic highlight of the tour was the visit to ICAR-Central Potato Research Institute (CPRI), Ooty, on 17th November where students learned about the biochemical and biotechnological principles involved in potato crop improvement. The session focused on tissue culture techniques, nutrient metabolism, disease resistance markers, virus-free seed production, and post-harvest biochemical quality evaluation. Interaction with scientists strengthened students' knowledge of the role of biochemical research in agricultural sustainability and food security. The group also visited the Benchmark Tea Factory and Chocolate Factory, where students gained exposure to food biochemistry, including enzymatic processes in tea fermentation, flavor chemistry, quality control, and the role of antioxidants in health. The team further visited important ecological and botanical sites in Ooty, such as the *Botanical Garden, Rose Garden, and Ooty Lake and the Karnataka Garden.

*On 18th November, the visit to Malampuzha Dam, Snake Park, and Palakkad Fort provided insights into ecosystem diversity, water resource management, and conservation awareness, summarized through environmental and biological context.

On 19th November, the team visited culturally and economically significant locations in Kochi, including Mattancherry, Jew Town, the Jew Synagogue, and the heritage zones of Fort Kochi, where students learned about spice-associated biochemical properties, traditional preservation practices, and the historical influence of spice trade. A boat cruise at Marine Drive helped students observe coastal ecosystem dynamics, estuarine biodiversity, and environmental concerns affecting marine life.

Overall, the study tour offered motivated students toward research and higher learning, and enhanced teamwork, communication, and scientific curiosity.

The School of Life Sciences organized a study tour to Ooty and Kodaikanal from 17th

to 20th November 2025

for 36 students, accompanied by
faculty members Mr.
Glavin Thomas
Rodrigues and Ms.
Vivid Dsouza from Zoology and Ms.

Delma D'Cunha from Food Science. The visit began with the Tea and Chocolate Factory in Ooty, where students gained practical insights into food-processing techniques and industrial hygiene. They then explored Ooty Lake, the Pine Forest, and the Botanical Garden, observing high-altitude ecosystems, endemic plant species, and conservation practices within the Nilgiri biosphere. On 19th, students visited the ICAR-Central Potato Research Institute in Ooty and attended an engaging lecture by Senior Scientist Dr. Praveen on crop improvement, disease-free seed production, and research methodologies. Following this, they travelled on the iconic Ooty-Coonoor toy train, where they observed the scenic hill landscape, valleys, and forested slopes, enhancing their understanding of mountain ecology and terrain-driven biodiversity. The tour concluded with visits to key ecological sites in the Kodaikanal Wildlife Sanctuary, including Guna Caves, Silent valley view, Pillar rocks and Moir Point, where students studied geological formations, habitat diversity, and the ecological significance of the Western Ghats. Overall, the tour provided enriching field-based learning that deepened students' scientific knowledge and environmental awareness.

A group of Hindi language students from St Aloysius (Deemed to be University) visited St.

Xavier's College, Jaipur on 21st November 2025. The objective of the visit was to provide students with practical exposure, interaction with faculty and students and a deeper understanding of academic practices followed in St Xavier's College. The visit began with an informative orientation session highlighting the college's history, courses offered, infrastructure facilities and achievements. Students then visited the various departments, laboratories, library, and innovation centre. A total of 45 students participated and were accompanied by Dr Sandhya Sirsikar, Ms Roicy Braggs, Ms Renita Aranha and Mr Aaron Heri.

The School of Life Sciences (B.Sc.) organized an educational tour to Delhi, Agra, Kullu, and

Manali from 23 November to 1 December 2025. The primary objective of the tour was to provide students with experiential learning and exposure to biotechnological instruments, research facilities, and institutional environments relevant to their future academic and research pursuits. A total of 96 students participated in the tour, accompanied by four staff members: Dr. Sreejesh P. C., Mrs. Shameena, Fr. Royston Madtha S.J., and Sr. Susaiammal A. Their academic and administrative guidance ensured the smooth and effective execution of the journey. As part of the itinerary, students visited prominent scientific, cultural, and historical sites including BRIC-NIPGR, Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), New Delhi, Taj Mahal, Akshardham Temple, India Gate, Hadimba Temple, Rohtang La Pass, and Humayun's Tomb. These visits enriched the students' understanding of India's scientific advancements as well as its diverse architectural, cultural, and historical heritage. The tour also provided an opportunity for students to experience the natural landscapes and environmental conditions of the Himalayan region, fostering an appreciation for ecological diversity and the challenges of life in cold terrains such as Kullu and Manali. This exposure complemented their academic learning by enabling observation of environmental adaptations and regional biodiversity first-hand. Overall, the educational tour offered students a holistic learning experience, combining scientific exposure, cultural enrichment, and environmental understanding, making it a meaningful and academically valuable journey.

International Immersion Program 2025 – St Aloysius (Deemed to be University)

A group of 32 students and staff members visited the National University of Singapore (NUS) on 23rd November 2025 as part of the ongoing 5-day international study tour in Singapore. NUS, which ranks No. 1 in Asia and 7th in the world, offered our students a remarkable learning experience. They had the privilege of exploring the entire campus and understanding its key facilities. Ms. Poornima from NUS briefed the students on various aspects including the research centres, campus environment, higher education policies, and student outreach programs. Students also participated in an interactive session that broadened their academic perspectives. This visit is a significant step towards our University's vision to have global collaboration.

School of Physical Science organised a study tour to Roorkee, Mussoorie and Dehradun from

22 - 30

November 2025 for 51 students accompanied by two Faculty members, Ms Priya Monteiro and Dr Roshan F.

DSouza. The team visited IIT Roorkee campus on 24 Nov 2025, where Prof. Maheshanand, HOD - Department of Mathematics addressed the students and offered guidance on higher studies. The group also visited the Institute Instrument Center (IIC) to learn about the functioning and applications of advanced analytical instruments used in scientific research and industrial analysis. On 27 Nov 2025, the students got an opportunity to visit the Indian Military Academy (IMA), Dehradun - a premier Institution training Gentlemen Cadets (GCs) for commission into the Indian Army. It was a unique opportunity to learn about the rigorous training, discipline, and leadership development that shape the nation's future officers. The students were inspired by the academy's rich history, impressive infrastructure, and the values of honor, courage, and service that define life at the IMA.

On 25th November 2025, Ms. Nithisha Rodrigues and Mr. Arun M. D'Souza, Physical Education Directors from St Aloysius University, visited Loyola College, Chennai to explore innovative practices in Physical Education. During the visit, they had a meaningful interaction with Rev. Dr. Joseph Antony Jacob SJ, who serves as both the Vice Principal and the President of Sports and games of Loyola College. He personally engaged with the team and shared valuable and insightful information regarding the college's sports infrastructure, training methodologies, student wellness initiatives, and the overall philosophy guiding the Physical Education department. The team also toured the college's impressive campus, observing well-maintained sports grounds, fitness facilities, and training areas. Overall, the visit was highly enriching and offered new ideas that can be effectively incorporated to enhance the Physical Education programs at St Aloysius University.

The School of Education (B. Ed) conducted a four-day educational tour to

Ooty, Tamil Nadu, from 26 to 29

November 2025, to offer trainee-teachers experiential learning through visits to natural and cultural sites. The itinerary included the Nilgiri Mountain Railway toy train, Doddabetta Peak, Ooty Lake, Wenlock Downs (9th Mile Shooting Point), the Pine Forest, the Government Botanical Garden, and the Ooty Tea Museum and Factory.

FACULTY EXCELLENCE

Infosys BPM organised a Faculty Development Programme (FDP) under Project Genesis for the faculty members of St Aloysius Deemed to be University from 18th to 26th November 2025 at the Infosys BPM campus. The programme aimed to enhance faculty competency by exposing participants to contemporary corporate practices, industry expectations, communication skills, digital tools, aptitude, reasoning and employability-focused teaching methods. Faculty members from various departments actively participated in the sessions, which included interactive discussions, practical demonstrations, and insights from industry experts. The FDP helped participants strengthen their pedagogical approaches, integrate real-world industry examples into classroom teaching, and better mentor students for placement and career readiness with springboard and AI learning. Overall, the programme proved to be a highly enriching professional development experience and fostered stronger collaboration.
